

Hannover Life Reassurance Bermuda Ltd. (HLR Bermuda) is the newest subsidiary of the Hannover Re Group and has been operating successfully in Bermuda since 2007. HLR Bermuda writes life and health reinsurance business in partnership with our clients around the world. This business is managed by our small team of reinsurance professionals based in Bermuda.

We now seek to appoint a qualified life actuary as

Marketing Actuary

Reporting to the Chief Business Development Officer

The Role: This is a challenging role which will suite a well rounded candidate with strong technical and communication skills. The role will entail a degree of international travel to develop business opportunities in conjunction with the Hannover Life Re worldwide network. In this role the Marketing Actuary will be involved in the treaty process throughout its lifecycle: negotiation, pricing, documenting and reporting on each deal.

Responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- On a day-to-day basis, analyzing, modeling and pricing new business opportunities
- Product development of tailor-made reinsurance solutions to meet the needs of current and potential client base
- Researching new markets and lines of business in order to diversify exposure
- Development of pricing models and assumptions for various lines of business in various geographical locations

Your profile:

- Appropriate actuarial qualifications from a recognized professional body
- Minimum of 3 years of life and health (re)insurance experience
- Geographical experience in our target markets of UK, Europe and Asia-Pacific is essential.
- Functionally, experience in the specialist fields of financial reinsurance, mortality and morbidity would be a distinct advantage.
- Excellent communication skills, both written and verbal, would be needed.
- A high level of computer-literacy and experience with an industry-standard actuarial projection system is essential. Experience with the MoSes system would be ideal.
- The necessity to meet tight deadlines and multi task on projects running in parallel will require an individual who is committed to the business and open to working hours beyond the norm.
