

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Today is such a special birthday Hope you know you're thought of in a loving and special way

St. Mark's Kindergarten, Nishuane School, Montclair High Every summer,

flying back and forth across the sky Sailing on the Queen

as you returned to your roots Trunks in tow, you settled under your godmother's roof

Pw's, BOB, Donzi girl, Holiday Inn's celebration of love Cox's Hill, on December 27th, a gift sent from above,

Locker, back to the family homestead Family and friends partied there, the good times we had!

To the east, from the ashes, emerged a special place Highlighted as a design trend, surely this was the case

At the helm of the club, to the top of the town Slow march, inspecting,

as you walked up and down A tremulous voice as you received the little black spice

I dabbed a tear, LJ and your father's presence would have been nice

Your mother's daughter, for sure, a caterer at heart

Tired of telling you, that's the business to start

One boy celebrating yesterday, one still playing with toys Little equals that of a grandma's pride and joy

Won't dare forget Fridays on the other side of the Cut Where all of you will celebrate more likely than not

Wishing you a future of health and happiness today, Cuz, I know I've got one coming,
and for this, I will pay!
