5.

If you object to the entry of the name and/or address of any person in the Parliamentary Register, you may inform the Parliamentary Registrar of your objection, no later than 15th July, 2015. The grounds for such objection must be in writing and accompanied by a deposit of five dollars ($5). If the grounds for objection are established, the Registrar will refund the five dollars to you, but if the grounds are not established, he will pay the sum to the person affected by the objection (Section 17).

6.

If your name has been irregularly omitted from the register or the particulars relating to your name in the register are incomplete or inaccurate or both, you may deliver a written statement to the Parliamentary Registrar outlining your grounds of objection. The statement must be accompanied by a deposit of five dollars ($5) and delivered no later than 15th July, 2015 to the Parliamentary Registrar. If the grounds of objection are established, the Registrar will rectify the register accordingly and return the five dollars to you, but if the grounds are not established, he will deposit the sum into the Consolidated Fund (Section 18).

You are reminded that if you are eligible to register but your name is not on the Parliamentary Register, you may register at any time during the year. You will not have to register again. Your name will be in the next publication of the register.
