

Apprentice Marine Technician

If you are a boating enthusiast and are mechanically inclined, then this is an opportunity for you to enhance your skill and enter a field that is both exciting and rewarding.

PW Marine is pleased to offer a three year apprenticeship programme leading to qualification as a Level 1/Junior Technician. During the programme, the candidate will be introduced to and be given instruction in all the relevant and essential aspects of Marine Service and Repair, as well as the more general aspects of boat upkeep and operation. Instruction will take the form of mentoring by a PW Marine Technician, augmented where possible and relevant by theoretical teaching, online courses and overseas training at the MERCURY Training School.
