

Infant and Toddler Teacher

Infant and Toddler Teachers at The Onionpatch Academy are responsible for providing our students with an extensive early childhood educational experience for children specifically approximately 3 months to 18 months of age. If you have substantial child care skills and have the creative ability to inspire, you would be a valuable addition to our team of dedicated Early Childhood educators. We need someone who enjoys working in an environment where quickly adapting to changing conditions and rapidly assessing the needs of young students are important and necessary skills. Teaching in an Infant and Toddler environment is great for people who love being around children and who have a passion for early childhood education. If you want to help children get a great start in life while informing their educational experience from an early age as one of our indispensable and hard-working Infant and Toddler teachers, then apply today!
