

65

HAPPY BIRTHDAY Kazwell

A new chapter of my life starts today
Saying goodbye to the past and for the future, I'll pave the way
Full of happy times as each story unfolds
I'll laugh, cry, be carefree and bold

I know I could fill a book with everything I know
Sixty-five is nothing to sneeze at but convinced myself not to pout
Having 65 candles on my cake
One might think it's a runaway

This being my 65th is an important one, I'll kick off my heels and have more fun
Soak up the sun, try new things and be adventurous too
The beauty of this age is I choose what to do
While having continued good health and energy too

I realize I still have a lot to fulfill
With these years passing by, I'm so much wiser now that I am 'over the hill'
God has truly blessed me in so many ways
It's the perfect time to say, this energetic lady deserves a special day

Enjoying every minute of the entire day
While celebrating in a festive way
In mint condition for a vintage model 1956 limited edition

JUST 18, WITH 47 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE = 65 YEARS