

Catalina Holdings (Bermuda) Ltd.

Chief Financial Officer

Catalina Holdings (Bermuda) Ltd. ("Catalina") is a holding company with a circa $2bn balance sheet that acquires insurance and reinsurance companies in run-off. Catalina is headquartered in Bermuda and has offices in New York, London and Switzerland. Catalina is seeking a qualified professional for the position of Chief Financial Officer. This individual will be a key member of a senior team focusing on international acquisitions and will also take overall responsibility for the financial management and control processes and policies for the organization.

The successful candidate must have:

- An internationally recognized accounting qualification or MBA with a minimum of ten years of senior financial management experience, leading the function in a similar sized business in the insurance or reinsurance industry. Run-off experience will be an advantage;
- Proven leadership and people management skills;
- The flexibility to operate in a fast growing and entrepreneurial environment; and the ability to deal with multiple stakeholders;
- Experience of corporate acquisitions in the insurance and reinsurance industry including tax structuring and the use of debt financing;
- Knowledge and experience in dealing with debt and equity capital markets and banks to secure and negotiate senior and subordinated debt;
- Up to date knowledge of capital structures and regulatory requirements in different jurisdictions;
- Experience of working in a business with strong operating and financial controls which directly contribute to decision making and the success of the business;
- Experience and ability to work to short time frames in a pressurized acquisition environment;
- Detailed knowledge of US GAAP and IFRS;
- The drive and energy to be a member of a senior team building a business; and
- The ability to understand the dynamics and demands of a rapidly growing business and to think laterally to solve challenges as they arise.

This position will require a willingness to travel and spend significant amounts of time overseas.
