Software Engineer

Gateway are seeking a professional Software Engineer, with at least one year's experience in application development, using VB.NET, C#, ASP.NET or Delphi.

Excellent communications skills are mandatory as the job involves working very closely with customers and prospective customers. Candidates should possess system analysis and design knowledge. Experience in SQL Server and Microsoft Access databases would be a decided advantage, while experience in Crystal Reports, SharePoint, MVC, WCF and JavaScript is a definite asset.

Responsibilities will include business requirements analysis, database and application design, programming and testing of new systems, but maintenance of existing systems is also part of the position.

An excellent salary and benefits package will be offered to the selected candidate. Applications, in writing only, accompanied by a resume and references should be forwarded to:
